Talk Through Your Ears® 7000

Walker, MN -- September 16, 2024 - CavCom is pleased to announce that Talk Through Your Ears® 7000 has received the 2024 OH&S New Product of the Year Award for Communication Devices. This prestigious award program honors outstanding product development achievements of health and safety manufacturers whose products are considered particularly noteworthy in their ability to improve workplace safety.

Designed for the most challenging work environments, Talk Through Your Ears® is the ultimate solution to clear communication in high noise conditions and when personal protective equipment (PPE) covering the mouth makes speech communication difficult. CavCom's all-new Talk Through Your Ears® 7000 communication earset allows users to connect to push-to-talk over cellular (PoC) systems, smart radios, cell phones, duplex devices, WiFi handsets, and more. President Beth Orton explains "Our unique and innovative earpieces combine a tiny in-ear microphone and speaker with superior hearing protection capabilities to provide consistently clear communications. When the microphone is in the ear, it doesn't matter how much gear covers your head and mouth - the speech is always distinct and easy to understand."

Customers can choose from a variety of universal and custom-molded earpieces. Providing excellent sound quality and weighing less than 8 ounces, Talk Through Your Ears® 7000 is a lightweight and comfortable solution for those in high noise or wearing PPE such as PAPRs, SCBAs, and other respirators or head-worn gear.
